

Better Together: Week 3

Let us think of ways to motivate one another to acts of love and good works. And let us not neglect our meeting together, as some people do, but encourage one another, especially now that the day of his return is drawing near... (Hebrews 10:24-25)

Start Talking:

- Did you ever do a group project in school? How would you describe your role in the project? Were you more of a “do all the work” person or a “take credit for the work” person?

Start Sharing

- What is your tendency whenever you feel like things are chaotic around you? What do you typically do when you don't know what to do?
- On Sunday we heard that “what doesn't kill you makes you stronger” is a myth—in reality, what doesn't kill you can make you weaker, or cynical, or fearful. What do you think has to happen for a hardship to make you stronger rather than weaker?
- Is there anything going on in your life right now that makes you feel like you don't know what to do?

Read – Hebrews 10:24-39 – God's answer for how we can motivate and encourage each other.

- As followers of Jesus, where does our ultimate hope rest?
- What are some practical ways we can motivate others and encourage one another to good deeds and service? Think about it in terms of the things in life that make us feel like we don't know what to do.
- Hebrews talks about the requirement of us to “persevere” in doing the will of God. What does that mean to you?

Start Doing:

- Think of people in your life (family, work, friends, church) that need motivation to do good or encouragement in a valley. How can you practically start living out what Hebrews teaches us?
- What are some practical ways your life group can start doing this with one another? Develop a plan within the life group to start the process.

Don't let the conversation stop. Keep talking it over with others in a GROUP.
