

Better Together: Week 4

If another believer sins against you, go privately and point out the offense. If the other person listens and confesses it, you have won that person back. (Matthew 18:15)

Start Talking:

- Have you ever been insulted or offended by someone? How did you handle it?

Start Sharing

- Think about a time you were offended by someone. What are some ways you could have handled it better?
- Is there anyone that you have offended (either on purpose or accidentally)? Have you gone to that person and apologized like Jesus commands in Matthew 5:23-24)
- Can you think of a time that anger got the best of you (when you flew off the handle or caused even more emotional damage by being controlled by your anger?)

Read – 1 Corinthians 13:4-7 – Paul's definition of what true love is.

- What can we start doing today to live out the kind of love Paul teaches above?
- What are some of the descriptions of love that stick out to you and why?
- Who is a person that you need to be reconciled with today? What step are you going to take today to be reconciled with that person?

Start Doing:

- We cannot be right with God without being right with others. What actions can you start doing to ensure you live a life where reconciliation with others is a high priority for you?
- What are some ways your life group can hold each other accountable to live like Jesus and help create a culture of reconciliation?

Don't let the conversation stop. Keep talking it over with others in a GROUP.
